

Kristin Reiber Harris' Suggested Resources About Exploring Art and Nature With Grandchildren

KristinHarrisDesign.com

<https://kristinreiberharris.myportfolio.com>

Art/Nature Workshops for Kids

Kristin's animated shorts

This collection of short animated videos on Vimeo includes life cycles and stories about finding the natural world in the city and an animal alphabet.

Kristin's coloring books

These are collections of drawings of primarily flowers and plants in Kristin's neighborhood of Bay Ridge in Brooklyn, Narrows Botanical Gardens in Brooklyn and Washington Market Park in Manhattan.

North American Association of Environmental Educators

Great resource with lots of ideas

<https://worldfishmigrationday.com/fishflags/>

Many parks have websites with resources and educational programs

iPad apps:

Procreate

Drawing and Painting app

I love this app and use it in my work. If you watched any of my animations, you saw what Procreate can do. That said, 5 and 6 year olds can work in Procreate and create wonderful art. I used it in all of my workshops.

Animatic

iPad app for animation

Also used this in many workshops for kids 7 and above

Project Ideas:

Nature notebook

Cut paper animals

I cut it out and my 3 year old grandson colored it
All materials from recycling bin (except markers)

Great books for paper crafts:

Kirigami, Karol Krcmar

The Elements of Pop Up
Carter and Diaz